Chat with the Chappie

You might have heard the saying,

'The family that plays together, stays together.'

It's really just about being connected. If everyone in the family is off doing their own thing, it is difficult to remain connected.

Think back to when you and your partner first met; my guess is you wanted to spend all your time together! You went places together, hung out together, ate together and loved to talk together. It's how you became connected.

It's the same with families; whether you're the traditional nuclear family, a blended family or single parent family, we all need to have fun together to stay connected.

What leisure or fun activities could you do together as a family this weekend?

Some suggestions are:

- Riding horses
- Bush walking
- Playing a board game
- A project for the backyard
- A picnic lunch at the river
- Racing each other on the kids favourite Playstation game
- Baking a cake

Be creative and find what works for your family!
